Receipts of Live Stock at the Union Stock Yards during the past 48 hours-1,247 cattle, and 1,862, hogs. Shipments

WICHITA MARKETS.

A large portion of the cattle receipts were billed through and stopped at the yards for water and feed. There were about sixty head of native butcher's stuff on sale and only part of them changed hands as most of the buyers were out of the market. The speculators don't seem to be active buyers at present as eastern markets are too uncertain for them to figure on. Eastern markets are overrun with dry weather stuff and salesmen are unable to get an offer on much of it. No improvement in the cattle so long as the shippers continue to run so much of that kind of stuff. Everybody is full up with cattle and there is simply no demand exrovement in the cattle so long as the cept on good to choice butchers' stuff.

The supply of hogs was fair for opening day but trading was a little slow. The market opened fully 2½ cents below Saturday's closing price, advanced weak to lower throughout the day, and closed veak at $3.40 for good packing hogs. A few loads of choice hogs sold early at $3.45. The buyers are making a difference of 5 to 10 cents between choice grades and com-mon stuff. More sorting is being done and many of the thin hogs and rough sows are thrown out as packers do not want them at any price. There was little demand for pigs today. Thin sows and rough hogs are very slow sale at $2.00 to $2.50. Some of the buyers look for lower fyeffect of a deep purplish blue and dark green, with black as a background, and bright white, red and yellow hair lines like a mesh thrown over the more somber surface. These plaids, in blue and green, were popular, in fact a rage, twenty-five years ago, in poplin. The present weave is the regular Scotch, with all the smoothness of poplin and the softness of cashmere. There are of course many bright colors in these plaids, but they are inseparable from the design and 'are already in good demand.

CRYSTALLETTE AND CLAN PLAID. The pretty crystallette with its round glossy folds has sprung into favor with lightning rapidity, and there are few ladies who have not one or two such dresses. If I whispered to the elderly ladies that this is very similar to the well loved and long worn silk mehair alpaca perhaps the liking for it would be explained. It is fully as handsome as the finest silk, does not catch dust, looks well on young and old, and is worn for every purpose except dancing, and I don't see why it wouldn't do for that. One of the most stylish ways of making it is to trim it with a flat band of bias plaid, and all plaid should be made bias to get the best results. For house yoke, sieeves, belt and foot trimmings can be plaid, or more or less elab-erate patterns in red or green or gold colored sontache braid. For attrest according plaitings or kill or how street accordion plaitings or kilt or box plaits are very stylish, and it is trimmed sometimes with black velvet and mauve velvet ribbon, at others with dark garnet, blue or green velvet, with ribbons of the same. Summer Outlings. Evidently the "Grand Old Man," Mr. Gladstone, has been impressed with the comprehensive and extensive system of advertising adopted by the proprietors of Pears' Soap. In his elequent speech on the local tax bill poetical recollections were happily mingled with prose impressions in reference to the "leaves of Valambrosa" and the "advertisements of Pears' Soap" as he excisimed. "If you were to multiply these amendments without limit and plaster your bill with them until they were as thick as the leaves in Vallambrosa, or as plentiful as the advertisements of Pears' Soap, you would not prevent the consequences of this clause."

But if amendment would not prevent the ill results of an unpopular bill, the advertisements of Pears' soap are more successful in their mission of drawing attention to a soap which will be found unsurpassed in preventing the ill effects of expoure to the sun, or saltair on the delicate skins of our American beauties, therefore those who have read these devertisements. kins of our American beauties, therefo

GRAY CHEVIOT WALKING GOWN bottom, and some white pink and cream silk lace, with all over embroidery in silk in Persian pattern and color, with eilver and gold thread intermingled. These also have borderings. Among the nicest fall and winter colored goods I saw some that would give any woman the heartache who couldn't possibly afford to buy them. The handsomest of these is a thick fleecy material fifty inches wide in subdued colors and in large plaid made by broken and indistinct lines. The two handsomest out of the whole book of samples-for those who have read these advertisement will prove themselves "wise as expents an harmless (and beautiful) as doves." If the secure a supply before joining the arm of summer visitors to the sad sea waves. the goods are as yet in the great cases in which they have arrived is an indigo blue in rather a light shade, with broken lines of gray and binck, forming a plaid
